

The will to win,
the desire to succeed,
the urge to reach your full potential...
these are the keys that will unlock the door to personal excellence.

Welcome to our 50th commencement

It's been half a century since our very first graduate, Edith Alfieri Warter (Marymount College class of '65), was the first of 42 students to hear her name called during commencement on May 31, 1965. A lot has changed (even our name) since Edith accepted her diploma, but one important thing will always remain the same. Graduates of this university leave here with the key to reach their potential and build a better world.

We have many time-honored commencement traditions, which you'll read about in the following pages, but this year, to celebrate 50 remarkable years, we're also introducing a new tradition. All graduates are wearing a key on their tassel to represent the many doors that their education at Lynn will open for them.

After today, as Lynn alumni, we hope this memento will help our graduates remember their home, their friends and their life-affirming experiences at Lynn University.

Congratulations, class of 2015.

Speakers

Commencement speaker, James W. Guthrie

James W. Guthrie is Lynn University's first presidential fellow and a professor in the Donald E. and Helen L. Ross College of Education.

Professor Guthrie has previously held endowed chairs in public policy at the University of California Berkeley, Vanderbilt University and Southern Methodist University.

Prior to his half-century academic career, Professor Guthrie was the manager of luxury hotels in Yosemite National Park and a special assistant to the chairman of the board of American Airlines.

He served both U.S. Presidents Lyndon B. Johnson and George W. Bush. For President Johnson, he was a White House speechwriter and the principal author of the 1967 Public Broadcasting Act. In 2010, he was named the first senior fellow at the George W. Bush Institute in Dallas, Texas.

Professor Guthrie earned his bachelor's, master's and Ph.D. degrees at Stanford University. He also was awarded postdoctoral fellowships at Harvard University, Oxford University and the University of Southern California.

Most recently, prior to coming to Lynn University, Professor Guthrie was the superintendent of public instruction for the state of Nevada.

He has designed the school finance systems for Florida and 15 other states.

At Lynn University's Ross College of Education, he instructs doctoral courses in leadership and education policy.

He and his wife, Olivia, have seven children, 10 grandchildren and one great grandson.

When not in residence at Lynn, Professor Guthrie resides in San Francisco, California.

Speakers continued

Student speaker, Wynton Edmund Grant '15

Wynton Edmund Grant, who hails from Sheridan, Wyoming, is graduating with a Bachelor of Music degree, majoring in performance with a specialization in violin. During his four years at Lynn University, he excelled academically, as a performance artist and as a member of the campus community.

While a student at Sheridan High School, Wynton Grant maintained a 4.0 GPA and was salutatorian of his graduating class. Lynn University Conservatory of Music was his first choice for college because of its small size and excellent faculty. Both afforded him exceptional performance opportunities and faculty mentoring, including study with renowned violinist Elmar Oliveira.

As recipient of the Harold and Patricia Toppel Endowed Scholarship, Wynton received financial support for full tuition and room-and-board for all four years at Lynn. He is profoundly grateful for the scholarship, which enabled him to focus on his music education and fully experience campus life.

Wynton is a member of the President's Honor Society, a National Merit Scholar and National Achievement Scholar. He performed with the Lynn Philharmonia for four years, the New York String Orchestra Seminar at Carnegie Hall in December 2014 and the Lyric Chamber Music Society of New York in May 2015. He earned First Prize in the Ars Flores Concerto Competition and First Prize in the Lyric Chamber Music Competition. He also performed widely at various Lynn events including, but not limited to, Black Student Union galas and Drama Club productions.

At Lynn, Wynton enjoyed a range of campus activities. He served in Knights Engaged: RevoLUTION for two years, Lynn 100 in 2015, and many more student life events, programs and organizations throughout his four years. His additional interests include reading, spending time with friends and family, listening to music, and, when he's home in Wyoming, riding his motorcycle.

Following graduation, Wynton will pursue a Master of Music degree at the School of Music at Yale University, with a full scholarship and fellowship. He hopes to eventually become a professor of music at a conservatory or school of music.

Special presentations

Honorary degree recipient, G. Robert Sheetz

Doctor of Humane Letters, honoris causa

G. Robert Sheetz is founder of the family-owned and -operated convenience store chain, Sheetz, Inc. The company operates close to 500 stores in six states—Pennsylvania, Maryland, Ohio, West Virginia, Virginia and North Carolina—and employs more than 15,000 people.

When 18-year-old Robert (Bob) Sheetz opened his first Sheetz Kwik Shopper in 1952 in his hometown of Altoona, Pennsylvania, he never dreamed it would lead to one of America's fastest-growing, family-owned convenience store chains. The young entrepreneur began the family legacy when he purchased one of his father's five dairy stores. With a knack for anticipating changing customer needs, he added grocery items, gasoline pumps and parking lots to great success. He served as president of the thriving Sheetz, Inc. for 32 years.

In 1984, Bob Sheetz officially handed over the president's reigns to his brother Steve, after opening their 100th store. In 1994, Convenience Store and Fuel News named Sheetz, Inc. Convenience Store Chain of the Year, and in 1995, the company entered the Convenience Store Industry Hall of Fame. Also in 1995, Sheetz's son, Stan, became company president. Today, Bob Sheetz serves as director emeritus and is a revered consultant to the family business.

Through Sheetz Family Charities, Inc., he and his family each year give back to communities in the company's six states, including thousands of dollars for Special Olympics and more than $1.5 million to provide Christmas to underprivileged children. They also sponsor more than 40 Make-A-Wish Foundation families on a trip to Disney World.

A resident of Boca Raton, Sheetz is a loyal friend of Lynn University and a member of the Lynn University Leadership Society since 2011. He funded the beautification and upgrade of Lynn's main entrance on Military Trail, including a traffic light for campus safety and five lanes for better traffic flow. Part of the university's strategic plan, Lynn 2020, this campus enhancement was a lynchpin in Lynn's ability to host the final presidential debate in October 2012.

In recognition of his innovative contributions to his industry and his exceptional generosity to Lynn University and the world at large, Lynn University confers upon G. Robert Sheetz the Doctor of Humane Letters, honoris causa.

Distinguished Alumni Award recipient, Jose Duarte '95, '98

Jose Duarte is the chef/owner of the award-winning Taranta Restaurant in Boston's historic North End. He is a leader in restaurant sustainability, food traceability and the culinary arts.

Jose Duarte's passion for the hospitality industry surfaced at an early age. At 4, he would greet guests at his family's home in Peru, usher them in and offer them refreshments.

In 1976, Duarte and his family relocated to Acarigua, Venezuela, where many Italians settled during and after World War II. Duarte often took part in cultural culinary activities like preparing and canning pomodoro sauces after the harvest.

Following high school, Duarte attended the Universidad Nueva Esparta in Caracas and subsequently moved to Boston to improve his English and apply to U.S. hospitality programs. In 1994, he transferred to Lynn University to study hotel and restaurant management. He honed his skills in internships and jobs, including managing Lynn University's snack bar and Tapas Espana Restaurant.

After working as catering director for the Philadelphia Distance Run from 1996 to 1998, he established a small catering business. During that time, he returned to Lynn University to obtain an MBA in food service operations. He then worked with ESF Adventures, preparing gourmet showcases for families.

Duarte returned to Boston in July 2000, opening Taranta in the city's historic North End. Seven years later, he began researching sustainability and carbon reduction. Since then, Taranta has offset an average of 80 metric tons per year, certifying it as one of the few "green restaurants" in the world. His recent work includes food traceability using edible QR codes and directing a documentary, Fair Tomatoes, now on tour at U.S. colleges and universities.

Duarte has won numerous awards, including the 2008 City of Boston Green Business Award, the 2011 Massachusetts Recycling Award, Waterford Crystal Chef of Chefs Award, 2011 Massachusetts Chef of the Year, 2014 Zagat's 25 Innovative Restaurants and Bars Across America, and Top 100 Most Influential Latinos in Massachusetts.

Duarte is a loyal alumnus of Lynn, hosting alumni receptions at Taranta and volunteering his time. He is a member of Lynn's Leadership Society and the President's Alumni Advisory Council. In 2013, he was Lynn's January Term keynote speaker, educating students about sustainable food and the fair treatment of farmworkers.

For his exceptional contributions to the culinary arts and restaurant industry and his exemplary service to his alma mater, Lynn University presents the 2015 Distinguished Alumni Award to Jose Duarte.

Traditions

2015 class gift

As a legacy to their alma mater, members of the class of 2015 have provided for the expansion of a popular outdoor gathering space known affectionately as "The Pit." Located between Freiburger Residence Hall and Lynn Residence Center, this beautiful area includes seating and a bougainvillea-draped pergola. The class of 2015's contribution is the third to a compounding gift, created by the class of 2006 and enhanced by the class of 2011. The class of 2015 completed their gift prior to commencement, adding a tree bench and enlarging the space beneath the pergola. Thanks to their generosity, more students will enjoy this tranquil spot. The university is grateful to the graduating students of the class of 2015 for their contributions.

Academic regalia

The academic robes and hoods worn by the faculty and students lend color to the pageantry of commencement. This regalia dates back into the medieval ages, when it served a functional as well as an ornamental role, separating the learned men from other groups and offering warmth and protection.

In America in the late 19th century, representatives of colleges and universities held a conference to bring order and system to the custom of academic dress. Since then, there have been periodic conferences to revise or reconfirm existing practices.

Undergraduates wear the black robes with the white collars. Holders of the master's degree wear hoods, which are lined with the colors of the college conferring the degree and trimmed with the color representing the subject in which the degree was earned. The doctoral robe is adorned with velvet and is also worn with the hood suitably ornamented.

Holders of degrees from foreign universities or religious orders wear the entire academic costume as decreed by the conferring institution.

The colors on the hoods worn in the academic procession represent:

Arts, Letters, Humanities	White
Commerce, Business	Drab
Communication	Crimson
Economics	Copper
Education	Light blue
Engineering	Orange
Fine Arts	Brown
Foreign Affairs	Aquamarine
Journalism	Crimson
Law	Purple
Library Science	Lemon
Music	Pink
Nursing	Apricot
Philosophy	Dark blue
Physical Education	Sage green
Public Health	Salmon
Science	Golden yellow
Social Sciences	Citron
Speech	Silver gray
Theology	Scarlet

A once-in-a-lifetime experience:

Lynn University and its students took center stage as host of the third and final presidential debate on October 22, 2012.

College reimaged:

Lynn's faculty, staff and students are revolutionizing teaching and learning through Lynn's award-winning iPad-powered degree programs.

We are the champions (again and again)...

Men's soccer brought home Lynn's 20th and 23rd national titles, and the women's golf team won back-to-back titles to bring home our 21st and 22nd national championships. Class of 2015 graduates helped design a brand new Fighting Knights logo and mascot.

The gonfalons

The gonfalons, a tradition that originated in the civic rituals of 12th century Italy, are a part of Lynn University's academic ceremonial protocol.

Lynn University designed the gonfalons in accordance with the standards established for all colleges and universities, and each bears the college's unique symbolic color. The university seal is presented on each gonfalon to embody the common bonds that unite faculty and students as members of one academic community. The vice president for academic affairs, in consultation with the academic deans, selects the faculty members honored to serve as gonfalon bearers.

The ceremonial academic mace

The academic mace dates back to the 14th century, when royalty, magistrates, and church or university officials carried maces in official processions. The design of the ceremonial academic mace incorporates elements from royal scepters and battle maces, representing both leadership and strength.

During the commencement ceremony, the mace indicates the authority of the university president to award degrees. The chief marshal carries the mace.

The Lynn University mace consists of a three-foot-tall wood scepter with a bronze cast of the Lynn University seal on the top. It was designed in 2002 by Graphic Design Professor Emeritus Ernest Ranspach, who presented it to then-Lynn University President Donald E. Ross in honor of 30 years of leadership and service.

Music and lyrics by Joe Carey
Choral arrangement by Rick Krive

Under skies of blue
We've made friends so true
From every corner of the world
Celebrating different cultures
Made us see our world anew.

From this caring place
We will squarely face
The challenge of our destiny
Like our Fighting Knights
We'll lift hearts and sights
And we'll go forth in victory

And if our blue skies should turn to grey days
Or we misplace a dream or two
We'll remember Alma Mater
And then Her spirit will see us through.

So let's raise our voice
In a proud refrain
Remembering good times we all knew
Hail all hail our Alma Mater
Lynn University ... Here's to you!
